“I’m passionate about real estate; my approach is focused on listening and on customer service, and I use the guiding principles of “efficiency and creativity” to find the best solutions.

After work, I like to share tasty dishes with my friends, seek out good shows, explore exhibitions and art galleries, read novels and I occasionally write”.

Meriem Allal specializes primarily in real estate law. She has expertise in the property management of shopping centres, office buildings, warehouses and retail stores, and in residential leasing.

She has over eight years’ experience working with small and large Montreal building lessors as well as for a large multinational corporation with a real estate portfolio across Canada.

Throughout the course of her practice, Meriem has been confronted with various challenges related to property management through her involvement in the drafting, revision and negotiation of commercial leases, lease execution and the resolution of conflicts between tenants and landlords.

Her in-depth knowledge of the various aspects of property management allows her to approach each real estate transaction with a global vision of operations.
